

Citizens' Panel

Healthwatch Cheshire West is setting up a Citizens' Panel of people who are interested in directing our work around mental health.

The mental health Citizens' Panel will help to identify areas of work we could get involved in to improve local mental health service provision.

Who should get involved?

- People who use mental health services
- People who are family members and carers of people who use mental health services
- People with an interest in seeing local mental health services improved.

The meetings below are open to everyone.
